Website

Good news. I have worked hard this past week learning a new system for web design. Several hours of tutorial videos were watched and several hours were spent putting the new knowledge into practice. With that being said, I believe that we might be able to have the site up on the cloud for you to use by this Friday. Please pray for me as I continue this process.

One of the new features will be a log in. I know. That means another username and password to remember. You will only need to log in if you want to get a copy of the Parish Directory. Everything else right now is open to the public to see. I do see the possibility of a confidential page for the community for certain other things. That is in the future though so do not worry about it right now.

One of the nice features of this new site is that I will no longer be tied to my computer to do updates. I can do it on my phone or iPad also. Another nice point about this is that I will have an Administrator or two who will be able to help keep all the information current and correct.
