Pastoral Council

I did not receive any feed back this past week from the Pastoral Council so I am presuming the meeting time is good, but I put the question to you again...
I have some important things to discuss so I would like us to get together on Tuesday April 4th at 7 pm.

Is that doable? Please let me know.

Website

I had at least one wife of one of the men at men's night who liked my joke about putting their pictures on the web site so they can check to see if he was where he said he would be. The good news is that I hope to have that web site up this week.

The address is still getholy.com but with a whole new look and feel. It will not be finished when it goes live, so keep in mind that it is still a work in progress as I learn the new system. Until then the old site is still up and running but it is not current as I have not been able to update it.

Also good news is that I have kept all the information on the site current so when it goes live you will be right up to date on everything.

Remodeling

Notice anything new this weekend????

New altar rail.

New ambo (podium).

New art work.

New paint on 2 of the windows.

This week we hope to get the grottoes in and to finish painting the other 2 windows.

I really want to thank the men who have been helping me this week. All the measuring (twice), cutting (only once) sanding, staining, assembly, moving, hauling, and installing. I have really pushed you this week. I know you have wives and family and so I appreciate their sacrifices too. Thank you.

I know you would not mind, so I treated 4 of the six men (OK, one is a little man) to Red Robin (Yummm) yesterday after we finished working. They earned it.

I ate too many of their bottomless fries. Potatoes are my downfall. For my penance, I will ride the exercise bike for an extra 10 minutes. ☹
